

African American Bottle Projects

Donald Driver

By Abbi Osborn

Donald Driver was born on February second, 1975

Driver is famous for being the number one wide receiver for the Green Bay Packers

Driver was on the television show Dancing with the Stars and he and his partner won

Interesting facts about Driver

Driver was homeless in his early teens

Driver went to live with his grandmother when he was 13

Driver's unknown facts

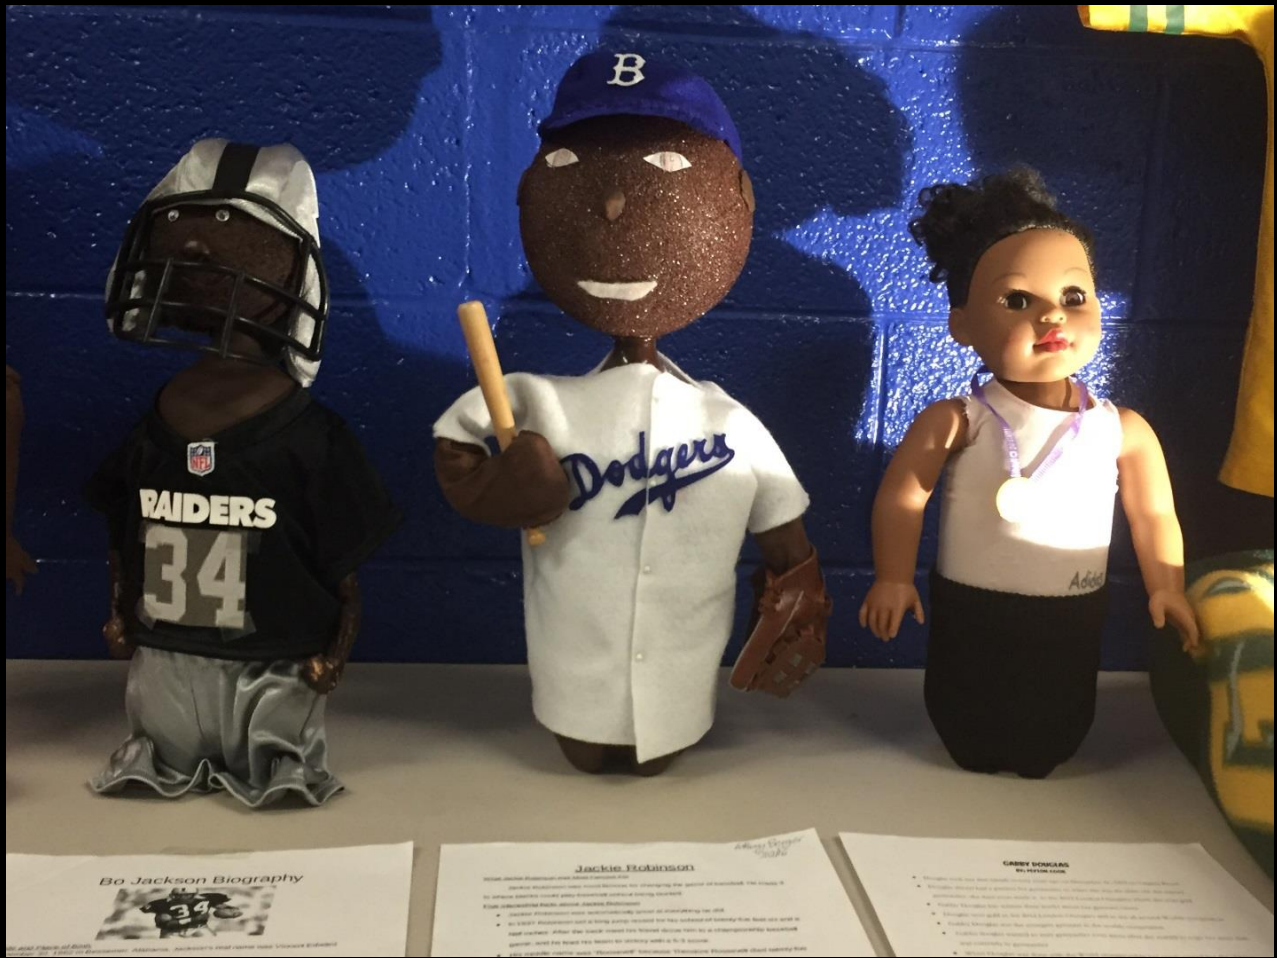

Driver and his brother stole cars and sold drugs to try to help their mom

Driver's nickname is "Quickie" because his mom chased him and could never catch him

More facts

Driver is still living

He retired as a Green Bay Packers wide receiver

Bo Jackson Biography

Bo Jackson

Bo Jackson is a professional football player who has played for the Oakland Raiders and the Cincinnati Bengals. He is known for his incredible strength and speed, and for being the only player in NFL history to have played both professional football and professional baseball.

Bo Jackson was born on August 26, 1962, in Birmingham, Alabama. He was a standout athlete in high school, where he excelled in both football and baseball. He was recruited by both the Oakland Raiders and the Cincinnati Bengals to play football, and by the Oakland Athletics to play baseball.

In 1982, Jackson was drafted by the Oakland Raiders in the first round of the NFL Draft. He played for the Raiders from 1982 to 1987, where he became a star player and was named the NFL MVP in 1985. He was also named the AFC MVP in 1985 and 1986.

In 1988, Jackson signed with the Cincinnati Bengals. He played for the Bengals from 1988 to 1991, where he was named the AFC MVP in 1989. He was also named the AFC MVP in 1990 and 1991.

In 1992, Jackson signed with the Oakland Athletics. He played for the Athletics from 1992 to 1995, where he was named the AL MVP in 1993. He was also named the AL MVP in 1994 and 1995.

Bo Jackson is a two-time NFL MVP and a three-time AL MVP. He is also a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame and the National Baseball Hall of Fame.

Jackie Robinson

Jackie Robinson was the first African American to play Major League Baseball. He played for the Brooklyn Dodgers from 1947 to 1955. He was a star player and was named the NL MVP in 1949. He was also named the NL MVP in 1950 and 1955.

Robinson was born on January 19, 1919, in Cairo, Georgia. He was a standout athlete in high school, where he excelled in both baseball and football. He was recruited by the Brooklyn Dodgers to play baseball, and by the Cleveland Browns to play football.

In 1947, Robinson was drafted by the Brooklyn Dodgers in the first round of the MLB Draft. He played for the Dodgers from 1947 to 1955, where he became a star player and was named the NL MVP in 1949, 1950, and 1955. He was also named the NL MVP in 1951, 1952, and 1953.

Robinson was a pioneer in the sport of baseball, and he paved the way for other African American players. He was named the NL MVP in 1949, 1950, and 1955. He was also named the NL MVP in 1951, 1952, and 1953.

Robinson was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1962. He is also a member of the National Football Hall of Fame.

GARRY SHARTWELL

Garry Shartwell was a professional basketball player who played for the New York Knicks and the Los Angeles Lakers. He was a star player and was named the NBA MVP in 1977. He was also named the NBA MVP in 1978 and 1979.

Shartwell was born on August 1, 1950, in New York City. He was a standout athlete in high school, where he excelled in both basketball and football. He was recruited by the New York Knicks to play basketball, and by the Cleveland Browns to play football.

In 1972, Shartwell was drafted by the New York Knicks in the first round of the NBA Draft. He played for the Knicks from 1972 to 1976, where he became a star player and was named the NBA MVP in 1977. He was also named the NBA MVP in 1978 and 1979.

In 1976, Shartwell signed with the Los Angeles Lakers. He played for the Lakers from 1976 to 1981, where he was named the NBA MVP in 1977, 1978, and 1979. He was also named the NBA MVP in 1980 and 1981.

Shartwell was a two-time NBA MVP and a three-time NBA MVP. He is also a member of the Basketball Hall of Fame.

